

Ten thoughts about politicians

By Tibi Ezri

1. Politicians are well intentioned but we are not always aware of this.
2. Politicians are not corrupted; only their lobbyists are.
3. Politicians are well educated; they regularly follow the reality shows on TV.
4. You should always trust a politician; Believing in trustiness reveals a generous character.
5. Politicians never forget their electors. Their sharp memory uncovers periodically during elections.
6. Politicians are never biased. They always follow their own ideals.
7. Since the Phoenicians have invented the money, politicians don't need to thank their voters for electing them.
8. Politicians never buy their supporters. They just go to their electors' family events.
9. Since they create the laws, politicians are the only citizens allowed to mess with them.
10. Politicians are crucial to our daily lives. Without them there would be no yellow journalism.
